

UN WATER CONFERENCE 2023

New York,
March 22-24,
2023

EXPRESS YOUR LOVE FOR WATER!

Water is one of the global human rights.

The FNV is accredited for the UN Water Conference 2023 at the UN headquarters in New York. Healthy drinking water and sanitation are one of the world's human rights. The FNV, as the largest trade union for the drinking water sector in The Netherlands, is represented by FNV Public Service and by FNV International Solidarity.

EXPRESS YOUR LOVE FOR WATER AND MAKE YOUR OWN WONDERFUL WATER WISH 2023!

FNV invites you to symbolically express your water wish 2023. All entries will be included in a relevant publication on this subject and taken to the Conference in New York itself in a playful way. In this way, together we are building a worldwide movement!

ON THE AGENDA IN NEW YORK

HUMAN RIGHTS AND LOOKING AHEAD

“Today, 40 percent of the world’s population is affected by water scarcity; 80 percent of wastewater is discharged into the environment untreated and more than 90 percent of disasters are water-related.” UN Secretary-General.

WILL YOU JOIN US IN THE FIGHT?

Human rights are still being violated worldwide. When it comes to water and sanitation facilities. The FNV has been fighting against injustice from different angles and different sectors for years. The right to water and sanitation for all with access to sufficient, safe, acceptable, physically accessible and affordable water for personal and domestic use is central. Physical presence of a water or sanitation supply is not the same as access. Read more at:

AGENDA EN OBJECTIVES: LOOKING AHEAD

The organizers of the conference set themselves the goal of giving governments a human rights-based approach (HRBA) for water and sanitation, allow human rights law to have a pro-poor focus, overcome obstacles to water and sanitation access, including discrimination on the basis of gender, ethnicity, religion, caste, disability, age, health status and economic status. Leaving no one behind’ is the central promise of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. A society can only achieve high levels of public health, gender equality, educational attainment and economic productivity if all its members enjoy their right to water and sanitation. Respect for human rights must be complied. Read more at fnv.nl/waterconferentie-vn.
